All about Adriana:

Adriana is the eldest child in her family. She is easy going, respectful, and responsible. She even worked as a babysitter for a period of time. She loves baking, shopping, board games, traveling to new places, and music. Her friends are very important to her and she loves to meet new people and spend quality time with them. She is a good student and her studies are important to her. As a family on weekends, she loves to go to the big city of Madrid and walk around shops and try new restaurants. They also like to hike in the forest. She trains four days a week for track and field, and competes on Sundays. She has traveled the world and feels comfortable in a different culture. Is your family willing to open your heart and home to Adriana and help her explore our American customs and traditions?
