All about Mohamed:

As a devoted and active individual, Mohamed finds time for extracurricular activities and hobbies. He enjoys playing volleyball. This sport allows him to socialize, have fun and keep fit and healthy. He is also a book worm. He believes books are the secret tonic of creativity as they not only release stress but also broaden his mind. Reading has also helped him to discover his talent for drawing as it nourished his imagination. Drawing has allowed him to express his feelings. He stays busy with volunteering for the underprivileged and charitable activities. Mohamed feels the exchange experience will help him discover a new world with diverse cultures. As the American population is diverse with many backgrounds, ethnicities, and beliefs he feels he will work to become the best version of himself through the program. Is your family ready to discover Tunisia also?
