All about Giulia:

Giulia is described as kind, funny and a bit reserved. She loves nature. She enjoys going for walks in the countryside and on holidays to the mountains. Due to this interest, she is considering taking biology at the university level and becoming a scientist. She is active in swimming and follows a swim program three times per week. Fantasy and Classical books are her favorite types of books to read in her spare time. She loves to listen to music. She even loves classical music as her sister has played the piano for ten years. On weekends she spends time with family and friends exploring festivals, attending concerts, going to the cinema, or visiting museums. She hopes the experience will help her to become more independent and change her in a positive way. Share your heart and home with Giulia and apply to host today!
