All about Giacomo:

Dear Host Family. I still cannot realize what I am about to experience.

I think one of the best things in life is to live many lives. Changing places, getting out of your comfort zone and diving into a new world. The idea of living a year on the other side of the world doesn't let me to think about anything else. I don't know what attracts me to USA between the dreamy mentality or the cinematic charm. But I can't wait to come.

My name is Giacomo. Maybe it's a bit difficult to pronounce in English, but it translates to both Jack and James, so people will have a wide choice to call me. I am a 17 years old boy who lives in the land of art. I'm in the home of good food and sunshine on the beaches. Italy is a really great place to live. The north is particularly open minded. Every place you go turns out to be memorable. I live in a medium size town of 18 thousand inhabitants. But despite all the beauty you can find in Italy, I like to convince myself that I am a citizen of the world.

I attend a science high school, and I have an aptitude for logic and math, but they don't blow me away. Despite the school choice, I'm a creative person. I like to write, I do it a lot, about an hour a day. I'm passionate about filmmaking. The world of cinema has always fascinated me. I love its language, music, stories and suggestiveness. I want to become a director and screenwriter. My goal is to win an Oscar one day. But now I'm just a boy who dreams. It will be hard to debut in a world full of people trying, not impossible though. Before going down that way, I'm studying and keeping as many doors open as possible, also because I can't waste potential.
