All about Naemi:

At first, I really want to say thank you that you're willing to let me be a part of your family for ten months. I appreciate this so much and I'm definitely not taking it for granted! We don't know each other yet but I'm already super excited to discover who you are. In order to make this happen, you have to get to know me at first! So let me tell you a little bit about me, my personality and why I want to go to the USA.

My name is Naemi and I'm currently 15 years old but I'll turn 16 in June. The idea of spending an exchange year in the US came to my mind two years ago and I've decided that I don't want to let it stay a dream; I actually want to do it. I see the advantages of improving my English and getting to know myself, you and many other people better.

You need to know that I'm a Christian at this very first point now because it's something really important to me and the fact that I get to write this letter is a big miracle and pure grace of god. My parents lead a church here and faith is our whole life. It's what we're based on. I'm an extrovert and sometimes loud girl and it's the greatest thing for me to challenge myself and there was no better way to do exactly that, than spending a year abroad. Also, I can be emotional and moody sometimes but in general I'm happy and motivated. I talk a lot and it's an absolute priority to have a good communication for me. I can be spontaneous, but I enjoy having a good plan too. Something my friends always say my is that my joy is contagious, and they enjoy my presence.

I'd love to try out new things or activities that I've never done before. Maybe there are some cool extracurricular activities, like tennis, pottery, photography or volleyball, in my future high school.

I'm looking forward to becoming a part of your family and I'll try my best to not just be 'the exchange student', but a good host daughter (and a maybe even host sister) to you. I want to get involved in your daily life as a family, help you and honor god with everything I am

Yours faithfully,
Naemi:
