All about Amin:

Aminullokhon likes to be called "Amin". He is hardworking and polite. Although a bit shy at first, he will open up once he gets to know you.

His passion is martial arts and wrestling. He trains and competes at state level with his team. He is hoping to try other sports while on program such as American football or Swimming. He loves being part of a team!

Amin often has big dinners with his family where he helps his mom prepare meals. He is looking forward to sharing some dishes with his host family.
